

Good Goodbyes: Knowing How to End in Psychotherapy and Psychoanalysis

Europe's premium AV and systems integration exhibition - Integrated Systems Europe is returning to its new home at Fira Barcelona for another epic event edition scheduled between 31st January and 3rd February 2023. ISE is rapidly gaining traction concerning attendance and exhibitor rates in the post-pandemic world, leading to exceptionally high expectations for the 2023 edition.

Over 850 exhibitors are expected to fill their booths with the latest, most innovative for the audio-visual contributing to the product display in each of the nine show floor sectors: Audio, Broadcast and Content Creation, Digital Signage & DoOH, Education, Live Events, Residential, Smart Building, Unified Communications and VR/AR/XR. ISE 2023 will attract a much broader audience, including high-ranking visitors with significant purchase and decision-making power involved in all links of the AV product supply chain and end-users. The visitors' profile represents unique sales opportunities for all ISE 2023 exhibitors to exceed their goals of prospecting, connecting with new suppliers and partners, and improving business reach and customer engagement. On top of the relaxed atmosphere, ISE 2023 will enhance participants' experience with a dynamic educational, developmental and entertainment programme. More than a dozen conference formats by AVIXA and CEDIA, keynote speeches and off-site tech tours will broaden and deepen your AV expertise.

If your ISE 2023 participation is confirmed, we at ExpoBeds encourage you to start planning your trip well in advance to enjoy greater discounts at the most popular properties.
