it would be just as well if we checked the prices

I wasn't expecting much, which was just as well it's just as well it's insured just a minute, I don't know if I agree with that I've prepared some extra food, just in case just in case it rains

¡ya me lo figuraba imaginaba!, ¡lo que yo me figuraba imaginaba!

just as I thought!

just as you wish leave it just as it is

I was just about to phone to be just about to do sth

I've just about had enough of this noise!

I think that it was just about here that I saw him it's just about finished I've just about finished this work "that dress is awful" - "isn't it just?"

just (you) wait until I tell your father just you wait, he'll come sure enough just listen a minute, will you?

this model goes just as fast the new one is just as big you sing just as well as he does

P

it's just as good as yours it's an old trick, but it could just work it may just be possible he just couldn't wait to see them you should just send it back let's just wait and see

I'm just phoning to remind you that just ask the way

I just told him to go away don't take any notice of her, she's just jealous it's just a mouse

they were just 15 when they got married just what are you implying?

just what did he say?

that's just what I thought

I can't find £1,000 just like that they have their problems just like the rest of us they are just like brothers that's just like him, always late just how many we don't know it cost just (on) £20 it's just (on) 10 (o'clock) just behind/in front of/next to it's just the same

it's just my size

just to one side

it's just over / under two kilos he passed, but only just

I (only) just caught it we (only) just missed it

I've just this minute finished it just before Christmas just as it started to rain it's just after 9 o'clock just after Christmas

he had just left

he has just left we were just talking about that he was just leaving when the phone rang

"have some tea!" - "actually, I was just going" we're just off
