A piece of matter, as it is known empirically, is not a single existing thing, but a system of existing things.

Thus we see that when organic beings are placed under new and unnatural conditions, and when hybrids are produced by the unnatural crossing of two species, the reproductive system, independently of the general state of health, is affected by sterility in a very similar manner.

Creakle and his friends what were supposed to be the main advantages of this all-governing and universally over-riding system?
