

The SAGE Handbook of Qualitative Research in Psychology

Rolfes Chemicals is a leading distributor of an extensive range of high quality raw materials for the manufacturing sector. Extensive knowledge of the relevant industries, and direct links to manufacturers enable us to provide products at very competitive prices using our local and global contacts. The company's footprint and customer base currently extends across Gauteng (HQ), Durban and Cape Town with warehousing and logistics capabilities in each of these regions. Our ambition is to position ourselves as a market leader through intensive focus on customer development by continuously adding new products as well as increasing our geographic coverage.

Reference

Forensic Psychology Second Edition

A Good Time to Be Born: How Science and Public Health Gave Children a Future