

Pharmacology for Health Professionals

Center for Interpretive and Qualitative Research (CIQR)

"CIQR is a center at Duquesne that hosts seminars, offers a graduate certificate and is involved in furthering qualitative research on campus. "The purpose of CIQR ("seeker") is to develop and explore interpretive and qualitative research methods as well as their practical implications.

Duquesne University has established a reputation as a locus for interpretive and qualitative research in the humanities, with phenomenological, hermeneutic, post-structural, critical theory and feminist research in departments such as philosophy, communications and English literature."

Reference

Chicago Review Press Pharmacology Made Easy for NCLEX-RN Review and Study Guide \(Pharmacology Made Easy for NCLEX series\)

What Makes Life Worth Living: On Pharmacology